Independent auditor's report

To the management of the International Federation of Red Cross and Red Crescent Societies

We have audited the financial statements of International Federation of Red Cross and Red Crescent Societies ("IFRC") Appeal (MAA63003) – Southern Africa: Regional HIV and AIDS which comprise the income and expenditure statement for the year ended 31 December 2010 and notes to the financial statements, which include a summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory notes, as set out on pages 5 to 8.

Management's responsibility for the financial statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and presentation of these financial statements on the basis of accounting policies described in note 2, for the purpose of providing information to IFRC partners and donors that have contributed to the Southern Africa Regional HIV and AIDS Appeal (MAA63003). This responsibility includes: designing, implementing and maintaining internal control relevant to the preparation and presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error; selecting and applying appropriate accounting policies; and making accounting estimates that are reasonable in the circumstances.

Auditor's responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with International Standards on Auditing. Those standards require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance whether the financial statements is free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgement, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Opinion

In our opinion, these financial statements are prepared, in all material respects, in accordance with the basis of accounting described in the note 2 to the financial statements.

Notes to the financial statements

1. Activities

Founded in 1919, the International Federation of Red Cross and Red Crescent Societies (“IFRC”) is a membership organisation comprising 186 member Red Cross and Red Crescent societies governed by a Governing Board and with management support provided by a Secretariat with more than 65 delegations strategically located to support activities around the world.

The Global Alliance on HIV programme in Southern Africa (2006-2010) is implemented by all ten National Societies in the Southern Africa Zone, coordinated by the Federation Zone office. The programme aims to quadruple the target beneficiaries by 2010, but also to provide quality service to 50 million people reached through a set of evidence-based prevention strategies, 250,000 people living with HIV benefiting from an expanded care, treatment and support programme and 460,000 orphans and vulnerable children provided with educational, nutritional and psychosocial support.

The financial statements presented comprise the income and expenditure statement and supporting notes of all projects linked to the Southern Africa: Regional HIV and AIDS Appeal (MAA63003), hereto referred to as the Appeal Income and Expenditure statement.

2. Significant accounting policies

2.1 Basis of accounting

The Appeal Income and Expenditure statement is presented in Swiss Francs. The Appeal Income and Expenditure statement has been prepared under the historical cost convention.

2.2 Foreign currency transactions

The presentational and functional currency of the IFRC is the Swiss Franc, since operating cash flows are primarily denominated in and influenced by the Swiss Franc. The IFRC’s operations are not concentrated in any one economic environment, but appeals, including the Southern Africa HIV and AIDS Appeal (MAA63003) are always launched in Swiss Francs, and expenditure is budgeted and managed in Swiss Francs.

Foreign currency transactions are translated into Swiss Francs using the month end exchange rate prevailing prior to the dates of the transactions. Exchange gains and losses resulting from the settlement of foreign currency transactions and from translation are included under financial losses/(gains), net in the Income and Expenditure statement.

2.3 Income

Income comprises contributions in cash or in-kind from donors.

Earmarked cash contributions are recognised as income when a confirmed written pledge has been received from the donor.

2. Significant accounting policies (continued)

In-kind contributions of goods (comprising relief supplies) and services (in the form of staff or transport) are recognised on the date of receipt of the goods or service and are reported as equal contributions and expenses in the Income and Expenditure statement. In-kind goods and services received in response to appeals are measured at fair value.

The fair value of in-kind staff is taken as the average cost that would be incurred by the IFRC if it were to directly employ a person in a similar position.

2.4 Funds held for operations

The cumulative excess of voluntary contributions received over operating expenditure incurred is recorded as funds held for operations. In the event that the funds cannot be spent, the IFRC obtains agreement from the donor for a reallocation of those funds for a different use, or reimburses them to the donor. Reimbursements to donors are accounted for as reversals of voluntary contributions received; consequently, funds held for operations are diminished accordingly.

4. Programme support recovery

In accordance with IFRC standard policy, a charge is made to the budget of each operation as a contribution to the costs of support for operations in the field. This support includes services essential for an operation's success such as human resources, finance, logistics, information technology and other support.

5. Shared services

Since the creation of the Zone offices in 2008, a new cost allocation mechanism has been introduced in order to fairly allocate indirect costs incurred by the Zone office to projects, in proportion to the services they receive. The reallocation of these costs are charged to the projects as shared services expenditure and include administration costs, IT service costs, financial processing costs and Human Resources administration costs.

6. Operational provisions

Operational provisions in the Income and Expenditure statement represent the value of working advances made to National Societies which have not yet been reported on by the recipient National Societies. Detailed breakdowns of the expenditure incurred by the National Societies are therefore not known at the reporting date, but are normally reported on shortly thereafter.

The value of unreported working advances at 31 December 2010 was CHF 1,156,352 less than at 31 December 2009.
