Capacity of the National Society

The Peruvian Red Cross has experience in assisting affected communities based on past experiences during the 2009–2010 flood emergency, when 11 departments (Amazonas, Ancash, Ucayali, Junín, Ayacucho, Arequipa, Lima, Cusco, Huancavelica, Puno and Apurímac) were affected by floods. In this occasion, the National Society assisted some 5,000 affected persons (approximately 600 families) with relief items and health promotion. The current operation will be led by the PRC disaster response unit, with the support of several volunteers trained as National Intervention Team members in the areas of health, relief, and water, sanitation and hygiene promotion.
